

POLICY G012: TERRORISM AND MONEY-LAUNDERING PREVENTION POLICY

Responsible person:	CEO	Version:	2.0
Approved by Board of Directors on:	15 February 2021	Scheduled review date:	February 2023

PREAMBLE

This policy was written by So They Can (International) in Australia for use across all So They Can offices. So They Can operates five offices registered in each of Australia, Kenya, Tanzania, New Zealand and USA, which are part of the So They Can Global Alliance. In this policy, 'CEO' means CEO of So They Can (International). Unless specified otherwise the 'Board' refers to the board of So They Can (International). This policy is intended for all So They Can staff, Board members and volunteers, in all 5 So They Can offices. So They Can procedures are consistent with So They Can policies.

INTRODUCTION

So They Can renounces all forms of terrorism and criminal activity. So They Can will never knowingly support, tolerate or encourage money laundering, terrorism or the activities of those who embrace criminal activity including money laundering and terrorism and will make every effort to ensure that its resources are not used to facilitate terrorist or money-laundering activity.

This policy sets out So They Can's commitment to comply with Australian laws relating to counter-terrorism and criminal activity, through processes and policies that minimise the risk of support for terrorists, terrorist organisations especially those on the UN Security Council's Consolidated List and the Australian Government's List of Terrorist Organisations. This policy responds to the risk of dealing with organisations and individuals associated with crime.

The Australian government has enacted legislation consistent with a number of international counter-terrorism treaties designed to combat terrorism. The relevant legislative mechanisms prohibiting activities in relation to individuals and organisations associated with terrorism can be found in:

Part 5.3 of the Criminal Code Act 1995 ;

Part 10.2 of the Criminal Code Act 1995 ('the Criminal Code') and

Part 4 of the Charter of United Nations Act 1945 ('the UN Charter Act')

The Criminal Code provides stringent penalties for, amongst other things, intentionally or recklessly 'getting funds to or from a terrorist organisation' (section 102.6), 'providing support to a terrorist organisation' (section 102.7) and 'financing terrorism' (section 103.1). The Criminal Code sets out offences concerning money laundering (section 10.2). A list of 'terrorist organisations' for the purposes of the Criminal Code is available on the National Security Australia website <http://www.nationalsecurity.gov.au/Listedterroristorganisations>.

Under the UN Charter Act, it is an offence to "directly or indirectly make any asset available to a proscribed person or entity". An asset is very broadly defined as "asset of any kind, or property of any kind, whether tangible or intangible, movable or immovable". While the UN Charter Act applies less stringent penalties, it has a much broader application in the aid context due to its very wide definition of asset. A list of proscribed persons and entities is available from DFAT at:

<http://dfat.gov.au/international-relations/security/sanctions/Pages/consolidated-list.aspx>

In addition So They Can will check the following two lists to ensure it doesn't deal with any listed terrorist organisations and/or proscribed persons or entities.

DEFINITIONS

So They Can Representatives – are all individuals and institutions who act on behalf of So They Can regardless of whether or not there is a formal legal agreement between them and So They Can. This includes, but is not limited to, all trustees, members, directors, employees, contractors, consultants, suppliers, advisors, volunteers, and implementing partners irrespective of which country their role is situated. In this document So They Can refers any or all of the international So They Can entities registered in Australia, New Zealand, Kenya, Tanzania and USA.

Under the “best endeavours” clause, So They Can has a positive obligation to act; in particular to ensure that it:

- a) knows the persons/organisations that it is directly assisting;
- b) confirms that the people/organisations it is directly assisting are not on either of the lists before assistance is provided; and
- c) ensures that directly funded persons/organisations are aware of and comply with these laws.

Money Laundering – the process of concealing the origin, ownership or destination of illegally or dishonestly obtained money and hiding it within legitimate economic activities to make them appear legal

Terrorism Financing – intentionally providing or collecting funds and being reckless as to whether those funds would be used to facilitate or engage in a terrorist act

Counter-terrorism – the practice, techniques and strategy used to combat or prevent terrorism

POLICY

1. Australian Government legislation prohibits dealing with individuals and organisations involved in criminal activities, listed terrorist organisations and/or proscribed persons or entities. So They Can will at all times adopt measures intended to facilitate compliance with this legislation.
2. So They Can will confirm the identity, credentials and good standing of the people or organisations it supports and will check that these people or organisations are not on the lists maintained by the Australian Government.
3. So They Can will use its best endeavours to ensure that all activities (including those carried out by a partner or affiliate organisation delivering aid) comply with relevant Australian laws and regulations (and those of the country in which the aid is being delivered), including but not limited to:

SO THEY CAN
POLICIES AND PROCEDURE

- a) Those in relation to the proscription against providing direct or indirect support or resources to organisations and individuals associated with terrorism, including 'terrorist organisations' as defined in Division 102 of the Criminal Code and listed in regulations under the Criminal Code and regulations made under the UN Chart Act; and
 - b) Those in relation to corrupt practices, in particular the bribery of public and foreign officials.
4. So They Can will not knowingly remit any funds to known or suspected criminal and terrorist organisations or individuals.
 5. So They Can will report any known or suspected criminal or terrorist offences or links to the relevant national authority.
 6. So They Can will use its best endeavors to ensure that overseas recipients of So They Can's funds will adopt policies and procedures that enable them to comply with relevant Australian anti-terrorist legislation.
 7. So They Can will ensure that all staff, volunteers and governing body members receive training regarding financial wrongdoing risks, prevention and reporting as part of their induction, and thereafter will receive annual refresher training.
 8. So They Can will make sure that all Representatives understand their obligation to report without delay all cases of attempted, alleged, suspected or detected criminal activities or links to terrorist organisation/individual. All cases of fraud and corruption will be handled in a confidential, prompt and professional manner in accordance with procedures set in So They Can Complaints Policy and So They Can Whistleblowing Policy.

PROCEDURES

1. So They Can will check and document that its staff, board members and suppliers do not promote or have connections with identified terrorists or terrorist organisations (those on the Consolidated List or the List of Terrorist Organisations). Representatives must know the identity, credentials and good standing of their partners and recipient organisations (i.e. what they do, where they operate, who are their key decision makers and staff).
2. Prior to engagement with any individual staff, board member, volunteer, contractor, visitor and supplier So They Can requires a clear Australian Federal Police Criminal Record Check, or Criminal record check for any country in which they reside or have spent more than twelve months of residence during the last five years. Throughout engagement with So They Can, Criminal Record Check must be renewed every 2 years.
3. All staff appointments are subject to successful reference checks.
4. Prior to signing any partnership agreement, MOU or funding, So They Can will check that the partner organization or their representatives do not promote or have connections with identified terrorists or terrorist organisations (i.e. the Australian Government & UN lists of terrorists and proscribed organisations).
5. So They Can will only transmit funds using reputable banks and other financial institutions for this purpose and observing procedures defined in So They Can Financial Manual and So They Can Inter Entity Transaction Policy.
6. Application by both So They Can and its partners of internationally accepted accounting practices, verified by regular, independent audits. Counter terrorism procedures will be included within Risk Management section of every in-country Project Plan document.

SO THEY CAN
POLICIES AND PROCEDURE

7. So They Can will ensure that all in-country implementing partners, are aware of and understand their legal obligations in relation to counter-terrorism, and adopt measures to support compliance with this policy for all funds provided by So They Can.
8. So They Can will immediately withdraw all support, including provision of resources, if it has reason to believe that a project partner has breached the requirements of this policy.
9. All MOU, partnership or funding agreements will include wording that requires the recipient organisation to adopt policies and procedures consistent with Australian Government requirements.
10. So They Can will perform regular monitoring and evaluation of project and program activities to ensure funds are being used for the purposes they were approved and provided. Funding recipients are required to provide quarterly detailed accounting reports showing how funds have been spent.
11. Where recipient organisations or individuals are found to be on either list, forwarding funds will cease and the national security hotline on 1800 123 400 (+61 1300 123 401 if calling from outside of Australia) will be informed immediately.
12. So They Can will report any suspected terrorism and criminal activities or links involving DFAT funds to DFAT within five working days of detection using counter-terrorism.resourcing@dfat.gov.au.
